

Post Tenebras, Lux

During the Reformation, John Calvin in Geneva developed the motto; “Post Tenebras Lux” – “After Darkness, Light”.

The Gospel of peace that has been locked away by the elite for their own power and benefit using Latin and religion was breaking out so that the man on the street was hearing the good news of Christ as Saviour and God as loving, merciful and holy.

Light was once more pouring into the world where before there had only been dark hopelessness!

During the early summer as we continue to work through the book of Acts we will be picking up on some of the themes surrounding the start of the Reformation of the Christian Church 500 years ago and seeing how they still resonate with us today.

We will also be taking part once again in “Thy Kingdom Come” – an opportunity to pray for God to help equip and inspire us as we share that good news of Jesus in our community – to go where darkness reigns and spread the light of the Gospel of Christ.

Our Verse for the Year 2017

"For in the gospel the righteousness of God is revealed – a righteousness that is by faith from first to last, just as it is written: 'The righteous will live by faith.'" Romans 1:17 (NIV)
