

all you need is love

St. Andrew's, Alwalton
learning, loving & living for Christ

John Stott wrote, "If fish were made for water, what are human beings made for? I think we have to answer that, if water is the element in which fish find their fishiness, then the element in which humans find their humanness is love, the relationships of love."

We began this year by looking at "Learning about Christ" and reminded ourselves of the importance of going back to the Bible to discover all we need to know about Jesus.

This summer we are continuing to work through our strapline; "Learning, Loving and Living for Christ" so we are focusing in on love – what it means to love Christ and to love one another. That means that our "Summer of Love" is going to be "far out" as we think about loving the almighty holy God; Father, Son and Holy Spirit, but also "focused in" on our everyday living as we worship God and interact with other people too.

So, please join us as we look at John's first letter and explore together our humanness found in God's love 🌸
